Wild Botanicals
Pure Mountain Origins

Born in Nature. Rooted in Ancient Wisdom.

Deep within China's remote mountains and pristine forests, wild botanicals flourish in their natural habitat, nurtured by the rhythms of nature and the changing seasons.

Growing at nature's own pace, these plants embody the richness and authenticity of their origins. Carefully selected for their botanical heritage, they reflect a centuries-old tradition of valuing nature's finest ingredients.

OriReva™ captures this extraordinary botanical heritage, bringing the essence of China's mountain traditions into modern wellness.

Our Story

Born from the mountains of China. Inspired by centuries of herbal wisdom. Reimagined for modern wellness.

Deep within China's ancient mountains lies a legacy of botanical knowledge, where nature and generations of traditional wisdom have shaped the art of holistic well-being.

Inspired by this heritage, OriReva™ brings together carefully selected wild botanicals and time-honored herbal preparation techniques, honoring the natural essence of each ingredient.

More than a herbal infusion, OriReva™ represents a philosophy of balance, harmony, and connection with nature—transforming ancient traditions into a distinctive wellness experience for modern lifestyles.

Core Essence

The Power of Ancient Herbal Wisdom

Rich in naturally occurring botanical compounds, these carefully selected wild herbs embody the remarkable heritage of traditional Chinese herbal practices. More than botanical ingredients, they represent a precious gift from nature, carrying centuries of healing traditions and a holistic philosophy of balance, harmony, and well-being.

Product Philosophy

OriReva™ Herbal Recovery Infusion is a topical herbal recovery infusion crafted for targeted and full-body use, designed to support the way the body moves, recovers, and feels every day.

Rooted in traditional Chinese herbal expertise and produced to modern quality standards, OriReva™ bridges time-tested botanical care with the needs of today's wellness. Formulated for both professional and home care, it is easy to apply, requires no equipment, and is backed by a professional treatment protocol — making it equally suited to a clinic treatment room or a nightly self-care routine.

TCM Wellness Philosophy

For thousands of years, Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM) has emphasized the importance of maintaining balance within the body. When the body's natural balance is disrupted, factors such as reduced circulation, accumulated tension, environmental influences, and lifestyle stress may contribute to discomfort and reduced vitality.

Supporting the Body's Natural Processes

The body naturally eliminates waste through the digestive system, kidnesy, lungs, and skin. Maintaining healthy daily habits supports overall well-being.

Breathing & Natural Balance

The lungs continuously exchange oxygen and carbon dioxide, helping maintain the body's natural balance and overall wellness.

Herbal Care for Modern Life

The Herbal Formula is designed to support the body's natural balance, circulation, relaxation, and overall wellness through traditional herbal ingredients and topical application.

Understanding Body Sensations During Use

Individual experiences may vary during use. Some users may notice the following sensations, which are generally temporary and normal.

Sensation	What It May Mean
Warm Sensation	May indicate increased local circulation and relaxation in the applied area.
Tingling Sensation	A mild tingling feeling may occur as the skin responds to the herbal ingredients.
Cooling Sensation	Some users may experience a temporary cooling sensation, depending on individual skin response.
Moisture or Sweating	Some individuals may notice increased moisture or light sweating in the treated area.
No Noticeable Sensation	Some people may not feel any immediate sensation — this is normal and does not indicate effectiveness or ineffectiveness.

Directions for Use

For external use only. Apply a thin, even layer to the recommended area three times during each session, allowing approximately 10 minutes between applications. After the final application, rest quietly for about 30 minutes. Avoid exposure to cold air or air conditioning, and avoid consuming cold foods or beverages immediately after use. For localized application, the treated area may be wrapped with plastic wrap (cling film) as directed.

General Instructions

Customer Experiences

Many customers have shared personal experiences using the OriReva Herbal Infusion as part of their wellness routines, including improved comfort and mobility, greater relaxation, reduced feelings of stiffness, support during physical recovery routines, and an enhanced sense of well-being.

Individual experiences vary. Results are not guaranteed and should not replace professional medical advice.

Sarah Dong
Brand owner

"I experienced noticeable relief with OriReva the very first time I applied it to my shoulder. I had lived with shoulder pain for more than 20 years. After just one application, approximately 90% of my pain was gone. For me, it was an incredible result."

Sarah Monther
Managing diabetes and leg pain

"I have been diagnosed with diabetes and struggled with leg pain and chronically cold feet. After five treatments with OriReva, I experienced significant relief from my leg pain, and my cold feet have begun to warm up. My doctor had recommended surgery to improve my blood circulation, but I have now found this topical infusion to be helpful instead. I am incredibly grateful for this breakthrough solution."

Tariq Nizami
Founder and CEO, CEO Clubs Network

"I travel constantly and often develop aches, colds and coughs triggered by the cold air onboard flights. After using OriReva herbal infusion, I found significant relief from my pain, cold symptoms and cough.

Sarim Baig
Basketball player

"I have lived with an old ankle injury for years and suffered from frequent pain. After applying OriReva, I felt pain relief right away. By the next day, the pain had disappeared completely. I am thrilled and find this infusion extremely effective.
